Homework:
Homework assignments will be posted on the course website. Each assignment is to be submitted in recitation in the week in which it is due, or with permission, submitted earlier to the TA in charge of the recitation section. Students are required to individually write up their homework. Copying is not allowed from other students or from other sources, but collaborative discussions are allowed. Assignments turned in late will not receive credit.

Exams:
There will be two midterm exams and a final exam. The final exam will cover the entire semester with uniform emphasis.
There will be no make up exams for missed midterms. Should a midterm be missed, the other contributions to the course grade (see below) will be weighted proportionately higher.
The final exam is scheduled for December 16, 8–11am (Tuesday). If you have a conflict, transfer to a different section of this course; no makeup exam will be offered on the basis of scheduling conflicts.

Course Grade:
The Course Grade will be based on a point total computed using the following weighting formula (h refers to homework, m1 and m2 refer to the first and second midterm exam scores, respectively, and f refers to the final exam score):

\[ 10\% \ h + 25\% \ m1 + 25\% \ m2 + 40\% \ f \]

The point total as defined by the above formula will be the sole determinant of the course grade. Personal considerations and needs will not be included as factors in grade determination, nor will opportunities for extra credit be offered. Also, grade changes are permitted under University Regulations only when an error has been committed.
